A GOOD INVESTMENT,
Better than Money in a Bank.

In new and growing communities money commands a high interest but as a section becomes settled and capital accumulates, rates of interest fall. The savings banks of San Francisco paid 12 per cent interest in 1870, while now they pay only 3¼ to 4½ per cent, which is about the same as Eastern rates. Heavy losses have taught our people the folly of mining stock speculation, and the present low rate of interest at the banks has caused prudent men to look about for some investment which shall be both safe and at the same time profitable.

One of the best ways of solving this problem is offered by the endowment plan of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company. We can best show this by giving a practical example from the books of the company.

Policy No 30,777, ten premium thirteen year endowment, issued at age of 22, February 1, 1873, for $1,000, annual premium $9[illegible], on the life of Nicholas Dahinden, Milwaukee.

Mr Dahinden received 5¾ per cent. compound interest on his investment in a policy of the Northwestern Mutual Life, besides being insured for $1,000 and upward in case of his death and furthermore, his money was as safe as if it had been in the best savings bank. Where can one find a better investment? The semi-tontine policies combine all the best features of sound life insurance.

It is the deliberate judgment of very many of the best business men of the country that the non forfeiting semi-tontine of The Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company is the best thing in the way of life insurance ever offered to the public.

CHILDREN.

Parents are often worried about a child that shows signs of drooping and loss of appetite and no desire to join in the sports of their playmates. It is hardly serious enough to require a physician, but it is plain that the child needs something. It is not prudent to force into the young and undeveloped systems strong and nauseous drugs, but a medicine that will aid, invigorate, enliven and thoroughly cleanse the system by gentle means is what is desired. Simmons Liver Regulator is a medicine of this kind. The child will not rebel against taking it, because it is not unpleasant to the taste. It does not compel them to remain indoors, and it does not weaken or injure the system. It can be safely administered to the youngest infant.

"I have used Simmons Liver Regulator in my family for eight or ten years and found it the best family medicine I ever used for anything that may happen. —OVID G. SPARKS, Ex-Mayor of Macon, Ga.

Closing Scenes in the Anarchist Trials.

FOUND GUILTY AS CHARGED

Press Comment on the Verdict—Doings of the National League—Egan Presented with a Service of Plate—Etc

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—There are four different versions given out this morning as to the verdict decided upon by the jury in the anarchist case. The only accepted fact is that the jury has decided upon a verdict and that all the defendants except Neebe have been found guilty and have been given various grades of punishment. A police rumor is that six men, Spies, Fielden, Fischer, Parsons, Schwab and Lingg have been found guilty of murder and that Neebe and Engel will be given penitentiary sentences. Another statement [illegible] the number who receive the capital penalty at three, Spies, Fielden and Fischer. There are no means of accurately confirming the truth of any [illegible] verdict [illegible] given out. No [illegible] by any of them. The [illegible] their rooms at the [illegible] across the street from the courthouse [illegible] a large number of police to prevent [illegible] attempt to break in upon the privacy [illegible] in front of the main entrance to the court [illegible] and three lines of [illegible] had to be encountered before anyone [illegible] the courtroom. At [illegible] several press [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Spies [illegible] Parsons [illegible] The mother of Spies [illegible] entered the court [illegible] took seats on the back bench [illegible] their way to the court house [illegible] to an inner room [illegible] adjoining the [illegible] court room. At [illegible] Mrs. Parsons entered the court room. She was given a seat between two policemen and with two [illegible] immediately [illegible] the rear. Whether this precaution was to guard against any extraordinary [illegible] in the court room or not is of course unknown but the seat accorded the female anarchist was deemed significant.

INTENSE INTEREST OF SPECTATORS

The tremendous interest taken in the outcome of the trial and the finding of the jury is illustrated by the crowd which has gathered in front of the court house to await the announcement. Nearly [illegible] people were gathered on Michigan street in front of the main entrance to the building gazing up at the windows. The police kept the crowd moving, however, and it appeared to be composed almost entirely of simply curious people. Judge Gary arrived at [illegible] o'clock, and also at the same moment the defendants' counsel arrived.

The prisoners were brought into the court room at [illegible] and were seated at the northeast corner of the court room on some side benches. The court was called to order at [illegible]. The prisoners presented about their usual appearance although Spies and Fischer looked deathly pale. The jury arrived at 9:55. There was an impressive silence as they filed in. When the jury appeared Judge Gary ordered absolute silence. There was a whispered consultation between the judge and the clerk when the verdict was read as follows:

THE VERDICT.

We the jury find the defendants, August Spies, Michael Schwab, Samuel Fielden, Albert R. Parsons, Adolph Fischer, George Engel and Louis Lingg guilty of murder as charged in the indictment and fix the penalty at death. We find the defendant Oscar W Neebe guilty of murder in the manner and form as charged in the indictment and fix the penalty at imprisonment in the penitentiary for fifteen years.

Capt Black asked that the jury be polled. The twelve men answered with firm voices. Capt Black said he would make a motion for a new trial. State Attorney Grinnell said it would be impossible to dispose of it [illegible] during the present term [illegible] agreement that the motion could be argued at the September term. This was agreed to by the judge.

The court let the motion be entered and continued until the next term and the defendants taken to jail.

THE PRISONERS' WIVES

The prisoners then filed out of court under the guidance of the bailiffs. Hardly had the jury left the room when a piercing shriek was heard followed by the heavy falling of the wife of Schwab to the floor, to whom the result of the verdict had been interpreted. She is also a sister of Schnaubelt the alleged bomb thrower. She was carried out to the air by the police and soon revived. Mrs Parsons looked haggard as she started to leave the court room but maintained a moderate degree of composure.

The crowd remained outside for an hour after the reading of the verdict. It is understood that the authorities now contemplate the immediate arrest of all persons [illegible] directly connected with the Haymarket tragedy for conspiracy, and that in this knowledge many of the active leaders since learning the outcome of the verdict are preparing to leave the city.

PRESS COMMENT

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—The verdict of the jury in the case of the anarchists is universally commended in this city. The Evening Post says: The importance of this result can scarcely be overestimated. It is a formal notification to all anarchists in this country and out of it that they cannot carry on their infamous trade any more safely in America than they can at home. If Spies, Fielden, Parsons [illegible] Schwab, Lingg and [illegible] are hanged, as they in all probability will be, their fate will be pretty certain to put an end to the business of throwing bombs in this country. All anarchists are notoriously cowards and [illegible] the intelligence that the practice of anarchy in the United States leads surely and swiftly to the gallows will have a depressing effect on the profession. The nationality of the Chicago criminals is sufficiently varied to carry a lesson home to more than one country. [illegible] English. Parsons American and the others are all German [illegible]

The Commercial Advertiser says: This is a death blow to anarchy in America. The [illegible] of the [illegible] Wehr Verein [illegible] will rise [illegible] they have heretofore championed [illegible] their associates [illegible] to death [illegible] their [illegible] under the [illegible]

The [illegible] is an unqualified [illegible]. The triumph of law [illegible] the [illegible] in character [illegible] circumstances [illegible] States will commend the verdict of the jury [illegible] of the Chicago anarchists. They will do it because it was justified by the evidence and because it was necessary that the state of law [illegible] should be distinctly and emphatically established by the courts. In no other way [illegible] the fact be so emphatically set forth both at home and abroad that the laws of this country are adequate to meet this imported description of murder. We constitute a free nation but there is no resting place for anarchists among us.

The Sun commenting on the anarchists conviction says: The best intelligence that has been printed in any a day and wholesome and cheering to all who respect law and order and love their country is that which comes from Chicago. Seven murderers and frantic scoundrels have conspired against all law, all reason, all decency and the peace and welfare of a civilized people are to be executed on the gallows for the murders of which they are guilty. The law they defied will be justified in their execution and a prompt, strong and necessary warning will be afforded to a class of exotic criminals for whom there is no room in this land. We have no such crimes in possession in New York as have been devolved on the authorities in Chicago but we are quite equal to it [illegible] so deplorable a necessity arise. We have Most and a few other reptiles in jail. We have dealt fairly well with our foreign boycotters and we have a police force that is equal to any emergency. But all honor to Chicago for her example. She deserves the thanks and the gratitude of every community in the country and she has them in the fullest measure.

The Herald says: "The verdict which condemns seven of the Chicago anarchists to death and the other to a long term of imprisonment will be hailed with a general satisfaction not equaled since that which followed the execution of Guiteau. With one exception the miscreants have been found guilty of murder and are condemned to pay its penalty but their crime is more heinous and more dangerous than ordinary murders. They sought to law, conspired against organized government and recklessly attacked society and order. The end of their diabolical teachings was general murder, arson and pillage. They plotted and threatened the wholesale destruction of life and property. What they sought was [illegible] as their name implies—anarchy and a reign of the most appalling kind. They have now been made to feel the grasp of the law which they affected to despise and attempted to trample under foot. The verdict rendered yesterday condemns these criminals to a deserved punishment. It will have a more far reaching effect. It will be a timely and wholesome warning to anarchists not only in Chicago, but in New York, San Francisco, New Orleans or wherever they may be found, that the red flag of anarchy cannot be openly run up with impunity in this country. The verdict is of national importance, and the jury that so promptly and fearlessly rendered it has done a national service."

NEW [illegible] Aug. 20.—The Staats Zeitung commenting on the Chicago verdict has the following:

The verdict is perfectly in accordance with the letter as well as the spirit of the law declaring the fullest responsibility of the intellectual author of a crime and we do not believe that there is as much as a shadow of a chance left for the prisoners to be saved from the gallows. The mass of the people undoubtedly rejoice over the verdict which is of the utmost importance. But the arch traitor dwells at present in the convict garb of Blackwell's Island and we trust the crowning point of this remarkably successful criminal prosecution of the Chicago anarchists will be Johan Most's extradition to the authorities of the state of Illinois. There can be no reason why such a request should not be granted in time. One of the prisoners, Adolph Ascher, when he heard the verdict is said to have muttered: "This is only the origin of anarchists." He made a mistake for this is the end of anarchy.

FROM THE [illegible] PAPERS

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—The Arbeiter Zeitung, of which August Spies was editor up to the time of his arrest on account of the Haymarket massacre, reviewed the verdict in the anarchist trial in its issue this afternoon under the heading "Shame [illegible]"

The Inter Ocean in an editorial for its issue to [illegible] The world has heard of this signal verdict with a sense of profound relief. The verdict is [illegible] the voice of [illegible] of the world's best civilization. The [illegible]

The Times [illegible] says editorially: The jury agreed upon a verdict on the first ballot, the voice of every man being [illegible] of the crime of murder as charged in the indictment. The execution of the death penalty upon these socialistic factors in Chicago will [illegible] effect the execution of the death penalty [illegible] the [illegible] propaganda in this country.

The Daily News [illegible] says: In regard to the conviction and sentence of Oscar Neebe the jury has [illegible] the general public. [illegible] the distribution of the [illegible] of the conspiracy and the verdict says to every weak [illegible] the detailed [illegible] of the [illegible] anarchy [illegible] in its certain [illegible]

WHOLESALE ARRESTS [illegible]

[illegible] Aug. 20.—At [illegible] his [illegible] of police [illegible] Chicago [illegible] station [illegible] command of Captains Schaack [illegible] Chief Ebersold arrived. It is currently rumored [illegible] the police have a list containing the names of nearly 100 men who were engaged in the anarchist conspiracy, and that wholesale arrests will henceforth be in order. It is reported that the names of Mrs. Parsons and Mrs. Holmes are among those for whom warrants [illegible]

THE NATIONAL LEAGUE

[illegible] SERVICE OF PLATE

CHICAGO, Aug 20.—A large meeting was held at Artillery armory on the lake front this evening to hear addresses by Michael Davitt and the Irish parliamentary delegates. An interesting feature of the evening was the presentation to ex-President [illegible] Egan of the Irish national land league of a beautiful service of plate from his friends in Ireland. The presentation was accompanied by an address signed by nearly 300 leading Irishmen, from which the following extract is taken to explain the cause of the presentation: "Upon your return to Ireland last December after a prolonged political exile many of the foremost citizens of [illegible] were desirous of entertaining you at a public banquet to testify the affectionate cordiality with which your fellow citizens were eager to welcome you home. That intention was laid aside in deference to your emphatic wishes that scourged as Ireland was with coercion and darkened with the hideously familiar shades of famine the moment was not one in which you could be a party to festivities in your honor. While yielding to your wishes in this respect it was found impossible to repress the wish of your friends to take some method of signalizing the gratitude and esteem which you have earned from your countrymen by life long services as modestly given as they were priceless to the Irish cause. Without any public intimation of their object your friends from every part of Ireland sought participation in the compliment and they made us their medium of tendering to you the accompanying service of plate more valuable in your eyes because wrought by Irish hands. We beg your acceptance of the gift as a pledge of your countrymen's appreciation of your sterling qualities as an Irishman and a friend."

In the course of his reply, accepting the gift [illegible] said: "I beg you first convey to the numerous signers of the address and donors of this presentation my warmest thanks and my assurance that in the future as in the past in whatever part I may be called upon to take in the national movement, my every effort shall be directed to ward keeping the green flag of Ireland nailed to the mast until the not far distant day when we shall see it wave over the Irish parliament on College Green making laws for a prosperous and happy nation."

MEETING OF THE NEW COMMITTEE

A meeting of the new national committee of the Irish national league was held to-day with President John Fitzgerald of Nebraska in the chair. Before proceeding to the regular business of the meeting John F Armstrong, of Georgia moved the following resolution:

Resolved, That the new national executive committee of the Irish national league of America deems it its first duty to thank Patrick Egan for the courage and ability displayed by him in the fulfillment of his duties as president of the league and that our best wishes go with him in his retirement from the office.

The motion was seconded by Second Vice President Rev Father [illegible] A McKenna and after speeches of approval were made by President John Fitzgerald, [illegible] editor of the Montreal Post, [illegible] Kelly of Vermont, W T Kelly of Minnesota, Judge Fitzgerald of Cincinnati and others it was carried unanimously.

President Fitzgerald was then authorized to appoint a conference committee of seven and it is expected that he will announce the names to-morrow.

The remainder of the session was devoted to disposing of numerous minor matters of a purely business character.

After the presentation [illegible] the reading of the following telegram [illegible] received:

To [illegible] the convention [illegible] of the Irish National League of America for the [illegible] which you sent of the [illegible] by the convention [illegible] and action. The order [illegible] proceedings have created a profound impression here and added [illegible] strength to [illegible]

PROCEEDINGS IN THE COMMONS

O'Connor Charges Churchill with Responsibility for the Belfast Riots—Arrested for Violation of the Restriction Act—Coast Notes

LONDON, Aug. 20.—A large and important deputation from the West Indies, a committee of merchants, called at the colonial office to-day and had an interview with Stanhope colonial minister. They asked his assistance in arriving at an understanding as to the present position of the West Indies in the proposed convention providing for a mutual exchange of certain goods duty free between the British West Indies and the United States on the same principles as that which was obtained in the treaty of 1854 between Canada and the United States. The deputation also requested the government to render negotiations with the United States on the proposed treaty and to arrange to have the British West Indies represented in the congress of North and South American [illegible] to convene at Washington [illegible]. The [illegible] asked the colonial minister to use his influence to induce the foreign office and board of trade to bring about a conference for the purpose of creating [illegible] a system of sugar bounties in the interest of British sugar producers in the [illegible] Stanhope said that [illegible] was [illegible] much [illegible] the matter. He deeply sympathized with the trade of the West Indies. In regard to the proposed convention with the United States [illegible] The views of the Washington government were well known but [illegible] had no very recent information on the subject and he would communicate with Earl Iddesleigh, foreign minister, in order to ascertain the precise attitude of the United States concerning the proposed representation of the British West Indies at the convention of North and South American states. He [illegible] and would [illegible] whether the government at Washington would be willing to permit [illegible] The question of sugar bounties was one which belonged to the board of trade, [illegible] he would exert himself to further the views presented.

IN THE COMMONS

LONDON, Aug. 20.—In the commons to-day Thomas Power O'Connor maintained that Lord Randolph Churchill's speeches were the original cause of the Belfast riots. (Cheers.) Every man who had lost his life in the riots was the dupe and victim of Churchill. (Cheers.) O'Connor said that a committee ought to be appointed to inquire into the actions of the Primrose league which, he said, was guilty at the last election of boycotting and intimidating to a great extent. He said that a vast majority of the liberals supported the Gladstone scheme which although it had been temporarily checked would inevitably meet with ultimate success. The conservatives were too sanguine if they thought that the election decision upon the policy supported by three of the four countries was final and irrevocable. He further said that the policy of the government of inquiring into judicial rents was illogical and impracticable because the commission could not complete its reports before spring, while the [illegible] [illegible] and a crisis would come in November.

ANNEXATION IN PATAGONIA

LONDON, Aug. 20.—The Berlin North German Gazette states that Prof Bracken [illegible] has made a large annexation in South Patagonia on behalf of Germany. The Standard commenting on this says it thinks Bismarck will have to reckon with Chili and the Argentine Republic.

The president had his small luck to-day. His guide Dave dressed the fish which was a salmon trout weighing five pounds. The guides say hereabouts that he is a good man who can catch a salmon trout every day at this season of the year. A house warming and a presidential reception are among the possibilities at an early date. The hotel guests are gradually becoming acquainted with the president and his wife.

A TRIPLE TRAGEDY

ELMIRA, N. Y., Aug. 20.—The news was circulated here last night that Elbert P. Cook and his oldest daughter were killed at Buenos Ayres, South America, July 11 last by pistol shots fired by an insane man. It appears that Cook, who was president of the bank of Havana, N. Y., and some time ago embezzled all the available funds, drove to this city at midnight and took the train for Canada, since which time his movements have been a mystery until brought to light by the tragedy. He went immediately from Canada to South America and was joined at Buenos Ayres last fall by his family consisting of his wife and four girls, the oldest 13 years of age. A young man named Gluck, from Indianapolis, was an inmate of the family residence at Buenos Ayres and July 11, while Mr and Mrs Cook were in the doorway talking, Gluck walked out from another room where he had been writing, and without the slightest warning shot Cook, killing him instantly. He then turned to shoot Mrs. Cook when the eldest daughter, Thankful, who was upstairs, came down and was shot through the heart, dying instantly. With the butt of his pistol Gluck then inflicted ugly wounds on Mrs. Cook's head which rendered her insensible. He [illegible] to the cellar door and then committed suicide by taking chloroform. NAVY SEDGWICK'S MOVEMENTS

EL PASO, Aug. 20.—[illegible] special [illegible] arrived at El Paso this evening at 4 o'clock and was escorted immediately by the editor of the El Paso Times across the river and to Paso del Norte to Consul Brigham's office where a secret conference of about an hour's duration. From there he was escorted to the Mexican Central depot where he took the train for the City of Mexico at 7 o'clock. He says his mission is to Minister Jackson alone and his credentials are directed to that gentleman who will enter into conference with him. He will return to Paso del Norte and enter upon a thorough investigation of the Cutting case. The department of state at Washington will take no steps until he returns and makes his report. Mr Sedgwick's baggage was thoroughly examined by Mexican customs officers at the Mexican Central depot at Paso del Norte, although his escort announced him as a special envoy from the United States. The large envelope containing his credentials and instructions was especially scrutinized. He reports that his mission is not a diplomatic one but simply one of conference with Minister Jackson and afterward one of investigation at Paso del Norte.

NEW YORK GRAIN MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—The remarkable activity in the grain markets within a day or two past bids fair to impart a decided momentum to general business, the most healthful feature of the former being that it is in line with legitimate trade. The foreign exporter for once is pushing the professional speculators to the wall. Yesterday's dealings at advancing prices on the floor of the exchange were attended with unusual excitement and transactions in wheat for September, October and December deliveries amounted to upward of 11,000,000 bushels. The increasing demand for Europe is chiefly based upon cable grams from London and Paris about bad weather. One authority is quoted as stating that the French wheat crop is largely short. The announcement that a quarter of a million of bushels of cash wheat had been taken at Baltimore for export, this morning, served to stimulate the market.

PORTLAND, SATURDAY, AUG. 21, 1886.

THE FATE OF VENICE.

Henry Watterson, of the Louisville Courier-Journal, writing from abroad, declares that "there is little in American politics which is not mean and paltry; there are few American politicians who rise above the mediocrity of trimming."

"We are passing from the age of sentiment into an epoch of materialism, and our public men have forgotten most that was good in the first without learning anything that is good in the second. There are no inspirations in that which, as it is the best we have, let us still call our statesmanship, and the man who has a conviction and ventures to offer it to stand by it and to fight for it excites the wonder and ridicule of the mongrel horde of office-holders and office-seekers who have made themselves conver[illegible] and who alternate in our political sham battles."

It is very easy to sneer at Watterson as a pessimist, but there is a deal of truth in his judgment. The romance of our history is gone. Our future is a century of "cankers of a calm world and a long peace." The vision of the America of the future is that of Venice. Venice had an age when the valor of her seamen and soldiers made her a gallant guardian of the cross and a terror to the Turk, but Venice grew rich, she ceased to be a state, which stands for "men, high minded men who know their rights, and knowing dare maintain." She became an opulent argosy, laden with spices, silks and other splendid stuffs, and Venice ceased to be a line of battle ship. She grew rich and yet she grew poor, because any state is poor that has not manliness to fight for its own hand. Venice finally ceased to be symbolized by a war galley, she became the miserable prey of parasites and fools, and to-day Venice is simply a gondola, while once she was the war eagle of the Adriatic. The future of America may not include the fate of Venice but it begins to look that way. Once we heard a bright, intelligent, well-to-do young man of 20 refuse to go and see Gen. Sherman on some public occasion. His answer was, "What good will it do me to see Sherman, what can I make out of it?" Sure enough, there was no money in his pocket in seeing Sherman, and a boy of 20 who had not soul enough to care to see Sherman was a boy whose education at school or home had been shamefully neglected or he was a boy who by nature was destitute of any comprehension of the duties and dangers of true citizenship. When a state or a people grow so grossly utilitarian that the youth of the country seriously decline to see Sherman on the ground that they "can't make anything out of it," that there is neither money nor fun in seeing Sherman, that nation is drifting in a direction that justifies the patriotic anxiety of the pessimistic Watterson. At the North we are naturally disgusted when we read of the honors paid Jeff Davis, but in our judgment enthusiasm for Davis is not half as ominous as the indifference of the sons of Northern sires who fought with Sherman to the hero of Atlanta. The Southern boy who sees Jeff Davis treated with respect will at least grow up into a man of sentiment, who knows that those who take wounds and death, even for error, are not without honor in the south, and while Jeff Davis may be personally thought lightly of by many Southern men, the "Lost Cause" is treated with respect because it stood at least for sacrifice, for tears, for death and devotion, and [illegible] man who once essayed to [illegible] as its representative of a [illegible] which [illegible] its best blood [illegible] truer American [illegible] youth at the North [illegible] Sherman [illegible] amused [illegible] are less significant [illegible] ion than sneers [illegible] the North [illegible] Sherman. The fact that the great and wealthy city of New York has [illegible] Grant monument is significant [illegible] public sentiment that means [illegible] a great nation, sure to get rich, sure to be at peace and yet sure to become corrupt and likely to go to the devil through the loss of manly, patriotic pride and gallant citizenship. In the ordinary affairs of life one acute Yankee peddler mind is worth more for service to his time than forty poetic souls, but when the storms and strifes of politics split states, and we are where steel and not gold will get us honorably and honestly out, and the word is war, then it is that the sentiment side of human nature that poets and thinkers feed steps to the front and leads where the pure peddler nature dare not clear the way. And for this reason we are glad to say that it does not frighten us to read that the South cheers Jeff Davis, because the South does not cheer him as the exponent of political heresy at all. It cheers him as the representative of a battle between the sections when their boys went down to death nobly for an idea, an error to be sure, and no manly Southern man to-day, even if he regretted the war and was glad it was a failure, can refuse to treat with respect the emblem of an error for which so many gallant and high-souled men heroically died. For that reason we are glad the South has sentiment enough left to cheer such a poor old phantom of lost power and exploded error as Jeff Davis, because it shows that the heart of Southern citizenship is not yet entirely corroded and eaten up by morbid utilitarianism. The South, when it cheers Davis, is spiritually against sordidness compared with the North, whose youth ask the cynical conundrum, "What good will it do me to see Sherman?" Sentiment is the very salt of the state, it is high thought against low; it is the palpable against the impalpable; it is the whole duty of man against the almighty dollar. And for this reason we think the South has more of the spirit of noble citizenship than the North. The South is noble enough when Jeff Davis passes by not to consider whether he was in error or not; they say he is the wandering ghost of a "Lost Cause," for which our boys bravely died in battle; he is down; he is open to severe historical criticism, but as the ghost of a cause for which we spilt our best blood like water he shall be treated with respect. We of the North would be glad if Jeff Davis had never been born, but we cannot deny that there is a finer capacity for noble citizenship in a people that will cheer Jeff Davis, trembling on the verge of the grave, the last ditch of us all, Union or Confederate, than in a people whose growing boys inquire what fun or profit there is in seeing Sherman. A man who has to have a joke explained to him is not and never can be a humorist, and a boy of twenty who asks what fun or profit there is in seeing Sherman or may make a million, but he will never fight for the flag, he will buy out of a war or take to flight, so let us thank God that the South is not afraid to cheer for its "Lost Cause," since such a people are full of the sentiment which saves a state from becoming a mere money bag, or a treasure ship. The American ship of state should always be a line of battle ship, "with ports all up, and battle lanterns lit," not a mere wrecker's boat that plunders foundered vessels of their cargoes, that robs the bodies of the drowned that are washed ashore, that has the hungry heart of a pirate without a desperate courage to fight and die in order to force an opportunity to steal.

RIVER AND HARBOR BILL.

The river and harbor appropriation bill continues to be the subject of general criticism by the Eastern press. The theory of the critics seems to be that the bill is a dishonest "divide" for the benefit of congressmen and politicians rather than the people. This view of the matter and the criticisms growing out of it come partly from ignorance but to a greater extent from deliberate purpose. New York, of course, does not want other outlets or inlets to the country improved, for every improvement limits her business of importing and exporting more or less. The press of New York takes up this interest and, by its prominence and control of news agencies, sets the press of the whole country to chiming in harmony.

It is quite evident that more and more each year the river and harbor bill will meet with opposition. Besides the powerful interest of New York and the other states which have nothing to gain from it, there is against it the strong railroad interest in congress and in the press. We have seen during the past few months an example of the tactics employed. When the bill cannot be beaten outright it will be loaded down with objectionable features with the hope of defeating it in the White house and making it disreputable before the country. To overcome this scheme of unfair opposition the bill should be so formed that the president could veto specific items in it without vetoing it as a whole. As the bill now goes to the president he is often in a very awkward position. He cannot authorize worthy appropriations without also permitting unworthy ones, and he cannot shut off some evident jobs without making many districts suffer. The authority to discriminate would make his task a vast deal easier and would of itself be a sort of protection against jobbery.

Much of the present objection to the annual river and harbor appropriation grows out of the fact that the sum asked is large and increasing. If the amounts asked for by the engineers last year had been granted it would almost have bankrupted the government. There is a feeling that the appropriation is too great and that is is likely to grow into a great abuse. This objection, if not generous, is entirely legitimate. In this state of public feeling a halt should be called, not on works under way, but as to the beginning of new works. The government has on hand all the river and harbor work that congress can be induced to pay for, and until some of the enterprises already in progress are completed and off hand, new works should not be attempted.

The conviction of the anarchists in Chicago, disposes effectually of the theory that there is no law in America to suppress incendiarism. Dynamiters from England, communists from France, socialists from Germany, nihilists from Russia and scalawags from everywhere, who have made America a rendezvous, now have notice to quit. The conviction, particularly if it be followed promptly by the hanging of the criminals, will have a wholesome effect both in this country and Europe.

There are a great many people in the United States who sympathize with the wrongs of Ireland and who wish for her all the reforms asked by her leading men, but who, nevertheless, think that America is not the proper place to conduct the business of agitation. The battle is between England and Ireland and it should be fought out at home. To those who think in this way, and they are many, the recent proceedings at Chicago appear improper, not to say offensive.

August is nearly gone but much grain remains unhoused and even still standing in the field in the Willamette valley, and this in spite of the fact that the season has been the fairest possible for harvesting. But if the rains should be delayed till Christmas somebody would still be caught tardy.

The news from Chicago this morning will not be very cheering to "Nat" Baker, "Al" White et id omne genus.

The president is luckier than most fishermen in that he doesn't have to do his own lying.

Parliament seems disposed to talk it over.

"This is something I have just dashed off," said the farmer's wife as she took the butter from the churn.—Chicago Tribune.

There are 1,0?7 women over 100 years of age in Paris, at least there are that number of women in the ballet of the grand opera.—New Haven News.

Weather prophet De Voe says that a tornado will strike very close to Washington, D. C. before the end of the month. Isn't that rather late to do much good?—Philadelphia Times.

It has cost the city of Chicago $100,000 to give its anarchists a fair trial. The quantity of hemp necessary to give them an appropriate send-off can be purchased for $2.85.—New York Graphic.

A correspondent wants to know "if the Indian question is assuming any new phases." Don't know, we're sure, what the Indian question is. Fifteen years ago it was, "How! Got any rum?" We don't suppose it has changed, unless all the Indians have died.—Burdette.

Mr. Winks (querulously)—I don't see why women in warm weather can wear dresses with neck and sleeves punched full of holes, while men have to cover themselves all up. Mrs. Winks (sweetly)—I guess, dear, it's because the less of a man shows the better he looks.—Omaha World.

Mamma—"Now, Effie, I am going to allow you to sit at the table with all the company, but you must not forget to be polite and say, 'Yes, please,' and 'No, thank you.'" Effie (with an unlimited capacity for dinner)—"All right, ma, but I don't think I shall have to say, 'No, thank you.'"—The Judge.

Ex-President Arthur.

New York Special 9th inst.

A gentleman of this city who passed several hours this week with ex-President Arthur at New London said to-day regarding the general's condition: "In view of the stories about his appearance and emaciated condition I was most happily surprised to see the general looking so well. I should say he weighs all of 175 pounds. In fact, I know that is his weight, from a friend who told me. There is a good healthy appearance to his skin, none of the flabbishness which has been reported. He has certainly been gaining; his conversation was animated, and gave no indication that he was a sick man. He talked of taking a trip to see a friend which would have taken four hours. He has indeed taken the trip several times of late. During the conversation General Arthur was standing most of the time, and no one who had not heard of his illness would have thought of him as a sick man. He certainly looks now like a man who had many years before him."

Rescued from Death.

William J. Coughlin of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with BLEEDING OF LUNGS followed by a severe cough. I lost my appetite and flesh and was confined to my bed. In 1877 I was admitted to the Hospital. The doctors said I had a hole in my lung as big as a half dollar. At one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of DR. WILLIAM HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS. I got a bottle when, to my surprise, I commenced to get well, and to-day I feel better than for three years."

CURRENT COMMENT.

St. Louis Republican: In the Mexican dispute we seem to have all the arguments and the Mexicans all the facts. We have justice and right, and they have Cutting and Arresures.

Cincinnati Sun: The only reason so far given for the rejection of Matthews, the colored man nominated by the president for recorder of deeds, is that given by Senator Ingalls, that "the office is too good a one for a colored democrat."

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: When the Grand Army of the Republic shall pitch its tents in St. Louis next summer, it will be somewhat chagrined, undoubtedly, to find that Missouri is still under Confederate rule, but otherwise it can safely count upon an enjoyable and profitable experience.

Providence Journal: If prohibition has come to stay in Rhode Island, it will not be by an alliance with corruption in politics, but only the support of the decent and honest citizenship, which regards with increasing disgust the venal trading and hypocritical self-seeking carried on in its name.

New York Sun: Dr. Barrows therefore concludes that the Indian race is wasting away, and rightly holds that in view of that fact we should be slow to boast of our civilization and be modest in our pretensions as Christians. If we can not civilize the heathens and savages we have at home, "it may become a question how far we can make a success on those lines among the inferior in foreign lands."

Samuel J. Tilden, much as he had been before the people, was always ill at ease in public. During the presidential campaign of 1876 he said to a friend: "I have never faced an audience or rose in court but that stage fright seized me. Sometimes my tongue has stood stupidly still and seconds of hesitancy have dragged along like hours filled with horrors. I've tried endless devices to cure myself, but it cannot be done."

New York World: The difficulty with Mr. Cleveland has been that while unquestionably sincere in his desire and intention to reform the public service, he has not been sufficiently practical in his work. The character of his appointments has not come up to the lofty standard of his professions. This has necessarily forced the unwelcome task of criticism on those who are honestly pledged to the cause of practical, not theoretical, civil service reform.

New York Commercial-Advertiser: A precious pack of liars has been collected in Chicago to swear to all manner of things in defense of the accused anarchists. A scoundrel, bloody minded enough to be an anarchist, always ready for murder and rapine, can be depended upon to add so small a thing as perjury to his category of crimes. Anarchists should learn, however, that greater art is required to lie successfully than to scatter bombs. Lies should consist, as it were

GENERAL NOTES.

Mrs. Mackay is known to many who regularly accept her hospitality abroad only as Mme. Bonanza.

A negro colony from the South will soon be on the way to California, the object being to raise cotton.

Attendance upon religious services by students of Harvard university will not henceforth be compulsory.

The state viticultural commission estimates this year's wine crop in California at about 16,000,000 gallons.

Mr. Gladstone is to go for a yachting cruise as soon as he is released from his official work in the new parliament.

The richest unmarried girl in Philadelphia is Miss Helen M. Serrill. She is young, attractive and owns $5,000,000.

Miss Phebe Harrod, of Newburyport, will never marry. On the 28th ult. she will have reached her 100th year.

Mrs. John W. Mackay is the American woman referred to by London Truth as having been refused an invitation to the queen's state ball.

The Prussian house of lords numbers nominally 313 members, 64 of whom are hereditary, while 216 are appointed for life. However, while 51 Prussian cities are entitled to seats in the house, some of them practically never avail themselves of the privilege. Thus Konigsberg has been without a representative for nearly twelve years.

The debt of the city of Berlin amounts to 177,500,000 marks, of which sum 1,500,000 marks will be redeemed in the course of this year. This indebtedness averages 112 marks per capita of the population—a figure about 50 per cent. less than that of Vienna (170 marks) and only about one-fifth of the debt of Paris. A mark is about twenty-four cents.

An Unfailing Remedy.

Brandreth's Pills cure dyspepsia or indigestion, headache, pain in the shoulders, coughs, tightness of the chest, dizziness, sour stomach, bad taste in the mouth, bilious attacks, palpitation of the heart, inflammation of the lungs. Pain in the region of the kidneys and a hundred other painful symptoms are the offspring of dyspepsia. One or two Pills every night for a week are sufficient.

Whitney's Idea.

Philadelphia Press.

John Roach's make of ships may not fill the requirements of that grim and briny warrior of the sea, William C. Whitney, but they appear to be good enough for the Canadians, who are buying them for cruising service. We are beginning to think that Whitney's idea of a perfect war ship is an old Standard oil tank fitted out with the rudder of an abandoned canal boat and armed with three or four sections of smoothbore garden hose.

Look What You Step Into.

When buying shoes step into a pair of "Hanan's" shoes and you will find a first-class article is the cheapest in the end to say nothing of a mighty deal of satisfaction you get before you reach the end. Eggert, Young & Co., special agents for Portland.

NEW TO-DAY.

OYSTERS. OYSTERS.

The season for Fresh Oysters opens in a few days, and I will be prepared to fill orders for all kinds—Shoalwater Bay, Olympia and Yaquina, Eastern in shell and in cans. Last season I tested the various brands of Canned Oysters, and found that Swanberg & West's are the best that come to this market. They are put up in two sized cans, large and small. My patrons are requested to send a sample order for these Oysters, and I guarantee satisfaction. My thirteen years' experience has fitted me especially for the trade, and I feel assured that I can please all who deal with me. I am prepared to fill orders for any variety of FISH in market.

Correspondence solicited; all letters promptly answered.

VETERANS FROM DELAWARE.—Department Commander John M. Dunn and Past Department Commander W S. McNair, of the state of Delaware, and other prominent Grand Army men from various departments, arrived in this city last evening and are quartered at the Gilman and other leading hotels. They report a very pleasant trip, though on the first day out there was a strong head wind that made the sea rough. It was followed by a heavy land swell that lasted till yesterday morning, when the steamer reached the mouth of the Columbia. About four fifths of the passengers were dreadfully seasick. They speak in unqualified praise of the courtesy of all the officers of the State of California, but especially of the kindness of Chief Engineer Nixon, Assistant Engineer George Crosby and the stewardess. The ride up the Columbia was greatly enjoyed and all the sick got out of their staterooms. The steamer touched at St Helens at 1 30 P M and swung completely around in the stream. After a wait of two and a half hours all the passengers who desired were taken off by the steamer Olympian, commanded by Captain L. A. Bailey, and brought to the city, where they were landed at 6 30 P M. Those who remained on the State of California did not arrive until about 9 o'clock. The Delawareans met an old friend in the Olympian, for Commander Dunn was on board of her when she was launched at the shipyards of the Harlan & Hollingsworth company, at Wilmington, Delaware, in 1883, and Post Commander McNair, who has been for five and a half years city editor of the Morning News of that city, watched her construction from the time her keel was laid, was on board during her trial trip and wrote a lengthy description of the beautiful steamer. The Delawareans were very hospitably entertained by Captain Bailey and the other officers of the boat

FUNERAL OF A SUICIDE.—The funeral of John Thomason, who committed suicide by hanging himself, took place yesterday afternoon at half past 4 o'clock from Dehm's undertaking establishment, the remains being followed to their final resting place in Lone Fir cemetery by a large number of the friends of the deceased. Coroner Dehm received an answer to a telegraph dispatch sent to Thomason's brother in San Francisco, instructing him to bury the body here. James Vernon had, however, already made such arrangements, and provided a metallic casket, so that the remains could be hereafter shipped in case the relatives wanted them. Thomason was born in Liberty, Clay county, Missouri, at which place his father owned and operated a large flouring mill, the first built in that section of the country. James Vernon, who was Thomason's particular friend, says he first met Thomason in Montana, about the year 1865 and mined, and lived with him in the same cabin for seven years. Thomason also tended bar in Helena for a number of years. Since their acquaintanceship he and Vernon have never been separated from one another for any great length of time. Nothing that would lead to the cause of Thomason taking his life has yet been developed, and probably never will be

THE FIRST AND THE LAST.—The State of California is the first steamer this season that has been stopped by St Helens bar. As the government appropriation for this special work is now available, and the work of sluicing out will begin next week, it is not likely that there will be a recurrence of the delay again. That one bar, which an outlay of less than $5000 will remove, has caused a great deal of mean talk against Portland from some of the interior press, and has left no good impression on our visitors. Next year provision should be made by the board of trade to sluice out the bar when the water gets down to nineteen feet, and not wait till it falls to seventeen feet. It is a matter of only two feet depth that has caused unfavorable comment.

ILWACO AND THE BEACH.—One of the most pleasant walks or rides that there is to be found within a day's travel of Portland is embraced in the trip from Ilwaco over to the beach. It must be taken to be appreciated, the cool, shady woods, mossy rocks, ferns and grasses by the wayside, all lend enchantment to the tired eyes that have looked only upon the dusty streets and pavements of Portland for weeks past. Go and judge for yourselves. Take the Lurline at the foot of Morrison street to-night at 9 o'clock. They will land you at Ilwaco to-morrow morning at 8 o'clock and you will have all day to enjoy yourself, or you can go to Fort Canby or the seaside, as you like. It is the trip to take, as you can get back home by Monday morning

MUST KEEP THE PEACE.—Justice Tuttle yesterday required Eliza Ferguson to give a bond of $100 to keep the peace toward Jacob Wark. The parties live at 91 Columbia street, Mrs Ferguson renting her portion of the premises from Mr Wark. It seems they had a war about water, and he offered to return her the rent paid, provided she would move out. First she agreed to do so, and next changed her mind. Jacob endeavored to assist her to move, when she threatened him with dire vengeance, also expressing a desire to take a shot at him. Mrs Ferguson still holds the fort.

SERIOUS CHARGE.—Early yesterday morning Mrs S Hadlock appeared in Justice Bushwiler's court and swore out a warrant for the arrest of J Danner, proprietor of the Chicago Exchange hotel of East Portland, on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. She alleged that she is engaged to work at the hotel, and that early yesterday morning Danner attempted to commit [illegible] assault on her, and failing in his [illegible] to compel her to submit by assaulting her with a pistol. Danner was arrested at 11 o'clock and [illegible] released on $[illegible] bonds to appear for examination on Monday at 3 P M

THE [illegible] HARVEST.—Supt H S Rowe, of the O. [illegible], returned yesterday from a trip over the lines, having traveled this week over every mile of track owned and operated by the company. Track laying on the [illegible] is progressing steadily [illegible] farming [illegible] this will be running [illegible] reports [illegible] the line based on measure [illegible] that the wheat yield will be larger than the estimates [illegible]. As yet but little is coming to market

NEW [illegible] LODGE.—Elkton Lodge [illegible] was organized at Elkton, Douglas county, August [illegible], the grand lecturer Prof Will [illegible]. The following are the officers: [illegible] H Buckle [illegible] Miss Maggie Stark, [illegible] Mrs M A Stark, [illegible] Miss Maggie Buckley, [illegible] Miss Cora Stark, [illegible] S H Moore, marshal; J I Kent, D M; Miss Carrie Brown, guard; F O Huddleston, sentinel; Mrs N M Finch, chaplain. Lodge meets Saturday nights

FAREWELL SERMON.—Rev G W Chandler of the Methodist church will deliver his farewell sermon Sunday, and on Monday will depart for the East. From there he will go to Europe and after visiting all the principal cities, art centers, etc., will make a tour through Egypt and the Holy Land. Mrs Chandler accompanies him. They will be absent about a year. The trip is one of great interest and affords many opportunities for sight seeing, and the participants expect to gain a valuable store of information. Their many friends here wish them God speed and a safe return

SPECIMENS FROM CŒUR D'ALENE.—Van B DeLashmutt has received some fine specimens of ore from the Nevada lodge, in the Cœur d'Alene district, which he and other Portland capitalists bonded a few weeks ago. One specimen of galena and silver assays $200 in silver and 70 per cent lead, and there are some fine specimens of native silver. It may be, after awhile, that some of the wealth of Cœur d'Alene will find its way westward, though Louisville and New York will always get the lion's share

VIA YAQUINA.—The steamer Yaquina City arrived at Yaquina City from San Francisco Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with 150 cabin passengers. At 4 o'clock they left on a special train for Corvallis, arriving at midnight, and left at 1 30 P M yesterday for Portland, getting here at 6 o'clock. Some of the passengers crossed over by stage from Corvallis to Albany and took the east side train about 5 A. M, arriving in Portland at noon

AT CLATSOP.—Arrivals at the Seaside house since last report: N W Durham and wife, W S Mason and wife, Sidney Dell, Edward Failing, Emil Frank, A. D Bevan, Mrs. Geo F. Frank, Miss Harrison, Sanford Hirsh, Ella Hirsh, Simon Herman, C H Prescott, wife and daughter, Portland; Jos. H. Worsley, The Dalles; Mrs. Carl Adler, Miss Sallie Hirsch, Astoria.

THE SALMON CATCH.—The fish wheel at Celilo is doing an immense business this week. The catch last Thursday was forty boxes and one day a week five boxes were shipped East. Last week 1 [illegible] pounds with a deduction [illegible] for the weight of the ice and the boxes, one day's catch is five tons. The fish are [illegible] genuine royal chinook, averaging larger and fatter than the late July catch at the mouth of the Columbia. So far as known no salmon are taken now in the Columbia in any great quantity, except at Celilo

DELEGATES CHOSEN.—The republican county convention of Skamania county, Washington territory, was held at Cascades on the 18th inst. Thos Moffett and W E Thomas were chosen delegates to represent the county at the republican territorial convention, without instructions

THE WATER COMMITTEE

Bids to be Received for Doing the Headwork of the Bull Run Pipe Line.

Yesterday afternoon a special meeting of the water committee was held at the office of Ladd & Tilton, Chairman Failing presiding and the following members present: Corbett, Fleischner, Gates, Johnson, Ladd, Reed, Richardson, I. E. Smith and Therkelsen

Clerk Schuyler read the minutes of the previous meeting, also of a meeting of the sub-committee held Tuesday of this week. At the latter meeting Engineer Smith presented plans and specifications for the work. These were referred to a special committee consisting of I. C. Smith, Richardson and Gates for thorough examination, with authority to take advice and assistance if found desirable. The sub-committee decided to advertise for bids for doing what is known in the specifications as the "head work," with the exception of the keeper's house, bids to be opened September 1

The action of the sub-committee was approved

The chair explained that the "head work" consisted of blasting, rock excavating, sinking piers, etc., at the point where Bull Run river will be tapped for a supply, and that the work must be done soon during low water, or deferred a year

The following bills were ordered paid:

Isaac W. Smith, salary as engineer 4 mos	$1600 00
Isaac W. Smith, money expended for incidentals	5[illegible] 00
I. Dekum, 1 month's rent	3 00
[illegible] & [illegible], use of team	15 00
J. C. Schuyler, telegrams, stationery, etc	15 6[illegible]

The chair was instructed to ask the committee's counsel to defend the injunction suit brought by J. B. David et al. Adjourned to meet at the call of the chair

BRIEF MENTION

Matinee at New Market to-day. "Forget Me Not" to-night

The key to happiness can be found at the Tivoli theater this evening

Paris extreme novelties are on the way from Paris direct, imported by H. D. Litt. Look at sample patterns in Litt's window

The case against James Cromie, of assault and battery on his father John Cromie, was dismissed by Justice Tuttle yesterday, on the latter withdrawing the complaint and paying the costs

Mr C. E. Webber, secretary of the East Portland branch of the Young Men's Christian association, will conduct the young men's meeting to-night at 8 o'clock in Y. M. C. A. parlor, corner First and Salmon streets. All young men are invited

John D. Dement, assignee of the Portland general hospital, yesterday filed an inventory of the value of the property with the county clerk as follows: Total value of hospital department, $1131 10; bath department, $587 15; carpets, $276; total, $1993 85

A man named Wright, who resides on Madison street between First and Front, reports the loss of a violin. His story is that Thursday night some fellow of musical propensities broke into the house and carried it off without leave. The instrument is quite a valuable one

W. S. Ford, of La Grande, whose insurance money was garnisheed this week by a Portland firm, promptly met the claims and the garnishment was released. THE OREGONIAN is informed that there may have been a bit of spite-work in it, and that Mr Ford's credit is unimpaired

Edward Lathery, who stole two bottles of gin off a shelf in Zeitfuch's saloon, at the corner of Second and Oak streets, one morning several days ago, has been held to answer before the grand jury, and in default of bonds has been committed to the county jail pending his examination

Anna Boyle, the crazy woman from British Columbia, was sent to the asylum at Salem yesterday. Her baby, some six months of age, was sent to be cared for by a family living on J street. Irvin I. Powers will look after the boy, a little fellow 9 years old, and the Sisters on Fourth street for the little girl of 4 years

The funeral of John H. Lyon took place yesterday afternoon from his late residence, 351 Morrison street. It was held under the auspices of the I. O. O. F., delegations from the Knights of Pythias and A. O. U. W. attending. The religious services were conducted by the Rev T. L. Eliot. The remains were buried in River View cemetery

August 11 Joe Moore brought suit in the state circuit court against Frank I. and Almira Holt to recovery $80 on a promissory note. In pursuance of an attachment order in the case Sheriff Knight attached certain property of the defendant, consisting of the southwest one quarter of section [illegible], township 3 south, range 4 east, in Clackamas county

FINE CARRIAGES IN DEMAND

A short time since the North Pacific manufacturing company announced in THE OREGONIAN a clearance sale of fine carriages. Prices were reduced to a very small percentage above net cost, and very soon several gentlemen in Oregon and Washington discovered that they needed something of a nice turnout. Among the sales made since the announcement, are a carriage to C. H. Honour, Port Townsend, W. T.; [illegible] buggy to C. E. Sitton, druggist, Portland; [illegible] carriage to R. M. Shannon, New Tacoma; [illegible] A. N. Morse, Seattle, W. T., carriage; [illegible] A. Hansen, Baker City, carriage, $[illegible]; Clough [illegible] buggy, [illegible]

There can be no stronger commendation of the North Pacific manufacturing company than in the fact that people who once use work from that establishment always buy a second time when they need anything that the company makes. The truth is the company manufactures the best work, and when it comes to carriages, just as stylish ... can be found anywhere

THE STAGE

"FORGET ME NOT."—As was predicted yesterday the New Market theatre was crowded to the doors last evening to witness the grand performance of Miss Jeffreys Lewis and her company in "Forget Me Not." It is unnecessary to write a criticism, but quite sufficient to say the performance was a superb one and deserved the splendid house in attendance. Miss Lewis will give "Forget Me Not" again to-night, her farewell performance here for some time, as she leaves for San Francisco on the outgoing steamer. This afternoon, at the matinee, "A Desperate Game" will be presented, also for the last time, and, as is always the case at Lewis's matinees, the house will be crowded

TO DAY'S BALL GAME

PERSONAL

Mr Ernst Benninghoven, of Chicago, corresponding editor of the Illinois Staats Zeitung, is in the city

Mr W H Smith, who has been confined to his house for six weeks with bilious fever, is slowly convalescing

Capt C J M Kelly, of the Tenth cavalry, who was stationed in this vicinity some eighteen years ago, and now located at Jefferson barracks, Missouri, is in the city. He came out with some recruits for the post at Walla Walla

Are you tired, ill, despondent, discouraged? Hood's Sarsaparilla will make you cheerful and congenial

An Idea.

During the present sultry weather, while the smoke in the atmosphere is so thick, a day at the ocean will do a person more good than a barrel of tonics. A by law compelling all good citizens to go at least once a year would be an excellent sanitary measure.

Phrenology

Prof Morris will give a free lecture and free public examination at Masonic hall this evening; front seats reserved for ladies. Subject, "What Can I Do Best?"

THE EAST SIDE.

Sudden Death of a Woman—Band to the Coast—Farewell Reception

On Wednesday night last, as L Nicolai, Otto Kleeman and another gentleman were walking near the Fifth street bridge, they heard some hoodlums at work on the railroad track below. An examination revealed a large number of empty lime barrels piled upon the track under the bridge, and they went down and threw them into the slough. The only motive the hoodlums could have had was to frighten the engineer of the train which would come around the curve in a short time. They were not apprehended, and are yet unknown

SUDDEN DEATH

Mrs Doc Harley, living on the Sandy road east of this city, died suddenly yesterday. She was stricken with apoplexy and expired in a short time. She was about 50 years of age and leaves a large family. The funeral will take place to-day

MOUNTAIN CLIMBERS

Rev C H Hobart, E L Long, Wm Owen, Louis Danforth and Charles Storey have returned from Mt Hood. They reached the summit. Another party, consisting of John Powell, W D Gilson and Messrs Johns and Clegg ascended as high as Crater Rock, but returned without reaching the summit. The entire party arrived home yesterday

BAND TO THE COAST

This afternoon the East Portland string band will leave on the Olympian for Tinkerville. Following is the personnel of the band: H. Miser, C. Bullock, C. J. Wheeler, W. Strahard, James Feeney, Thos. Lynuff, Fred Bullock and Ed Gries. They will furnish music on the trip and play for a dance at Tinker's hall to-night.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL

Mrs J A Cogswell and daughter have returned from Westport after a six weeks absence

Mrs J T Hughes died at her home in this city on the 18th of consumption, and was buried east of Mt Tabor

Mrs F Williams died yesterday at her home east of the city, and will be buried to-day. She leaves a large family of grown children and about $2000 in property

In the M E Sunday school to-morrow will be held a memorial service for the late Hillery Caren, who was the organizer and first superintendent of the school. Short addresses will be delivered by some who were long associated with him in the church and its work.

Services at the Methodist church to-morrow, morning and evening, will be unusually interesting. As it is the last Sunday that Pastor Wilson will be here, he will preach his farewell sermon in the evening. Every one is invited to be present at all the services of the day

A surprise party was tendered Rev S P Wilson and family last night at the Methodist parsonage. A large number were present and a thorough good time had. Different exercises were held, among them some literary pieces of considerable merit. Mrs. C N Rankin gave a recitation, and others contributed, music, etc. The occasion was a very flattering one for Rev Mr Wilson and family

A WELL-MERITED HONOR

The board of directors of the Presbyterian Theological seminary at San Francisco, at their regular meeting held August 10, unanimously and by a rising vote elected Rev A. L Lindsley, D. D., the well known pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city to the chair of practical theology. Mr E Quackenbush, who is a member of the board, made the nomination as a representative of the synod of the Columbia. The above choice confers a well earned honor upon Dr Lindsley. His acceptance has not yet been signified, but it is earnestly hoped by all friends of the seminary that he will accept and enter upon his duties at an early date

It seems in keeping with this notice to call attention briefly to Dr Lindsley's career. He is possessed of varied acquirements, all of which tend to fit him for the important position which he will occupy as a professor. He pursued a course of study at Rensselaer Polytechnic institute, Troy, N. Y., where he received the degrees of B. S. and C. E. After further study at Union college, Schenectady, N. Y., the degree of A. M. was conferred upon him. He entered Union Theological seminary, New York city, and after enjoying its instruction for two years entered Princeton, where he spent two more years and was graduated. His name appears among the alumni of both these distinguished seminaries. Leaving the schools and declining invitations to enter churches at the East, he came west to Wisconsin, where he passed the first six years of his ministry. Here aside from the regular duties of the pastorate he identified himself with educational interests. He was one of the founders of Carroll college, at Waukesha, and gave very valuable aid in organizing the school system of Wisconsin, including the university. Owing to ill health the doctor was compelled to seek a change of climate. The following sixteen years, therefore, were spent in the vicinity of New York, in active ministerial life. He was honored by the university of the city of New York with the degree of doctor of divinity, and at the same time the same degree was voted him by the trustees of Princeton college. He was twice called to churches in San Francisco, but declined. He was invited to the Hanover church, Boston, the most prominent Presbyterian church in New England. This was also declined. He accepted an invitation to the First church in Portland, to which he came in 1868. Since that time his history is closely interwoven with all that is best in the growth of our commonwealth. The interests of his own church have received that large share of his attention which they demanded. Probably no man on the coast is more familiar with the growth of the Presbyterian church than Doctor Lindsley. He has organized many of the churches and preached at the dedication of nearly three fourths of all the edifices erected. With the broad spirit of benevolence which actuates his efforts the doctor has also turned his thought and attention to the Indians of Oregon, Washington and Alaska. How much these natives are indebted to him cannot well be estimated, but he has made their elevation in morals and education a special care and the results of it are manifest. He has been the warm friend and abettor of all educational movements in Oregon, assisting the ... and lastly ... looking forward to the establishment of colleges such as adorn the East, and seminaries like the one with which his future will be identified

Efforts for all reforms have enlisted his sympathy and thought, often taking the initiative, and when the measure was started leaving it for less busy hands to carry on. In his pulpit he has discussed the mighty themes of the gospel, and has made use of current events, the lives of men who have passed into history and popular topics of thought to win attention to the truth he had to present. Now as he approaches the close of a long ministry to take up new duties these things come back to mind

His absence from this part of the Northwest will be severely felt by a host of friends to whom the doctor has endeared himself. But while deeply regretting the departure of an able and devoted minister, a wise friend and counselor, the continuance of his usefulness in the seminary at San Francisco is a great satisfaction. Already hearty words of welcome have come to him from those with whom he will be associated in San Francisco. His friends here tender him their sincere congratulations upon his election to such an important position. He will be followed with the best wishes of people from all positions and denominations by whom he is respected for those admirable traits for which he is so well known

MT HOOD FROM HOOD RIVER

There are more good places in Oregon to go to than there are people to go to them. Some hundreds of miles of coast line indented with inviting bays, pointed with bold headlands and rimmed with shallow sandy beaches, call for the traveler to come and hear ocean music and see ocean sights. A hundred streams and rivers come out of the Cascade and Coast mountains, and each, with its picturesque glades and cool canyons, its cascades and cataracts, lures the tourist to its fastnesses. Mineral springs, too, and blackberry patches, and trout streams and a thousand mountains give promise of something delightful

Old Hood, however, must always be one of the most inviting of resorts. We trust that it will never be exactly a "fashionable" place, there is something too sincere and pure about this rugged old volcano for the cheap class of people who go by the title of "the fashionable." It is now very accessible. By boat or rail to Hood River itself is a fine journey. From Hood River to the mountain is an easy day's drive, variously estimated from twenty two to twenty-six miles in length. It is mostly up hill, and the scenery is an expanding panorama of valley, hill, river and mountain, and through meadows and groves. The tourist has time, and the consent of the driver and horses, as the stage climbs the grades, to refresh himself by walking, picking flowers or hazel nuts, or popping away at the squirrels. It strikes us that there are few places to which a man could more profitably take his family. Almost any boy or girl would be willing to go without candy and peanuts all the year for the chance to set foot on the snow of the peak that they have seen so often. It is a weird magician to the child's fancy, "a great medicine" [illegible], and the reminiscences of a week or two, as well as the prospect of a visit under its walls would fill many a moment that might otherwise be spent in idle mischief. The girls could be encouraged to collect the odd looking flowers that grow near the snow. The boys might gather specimens of the yellow, red, gray, black and speckled rocks and the crystals, of which the mountain is built. Perhaps the parents could teach them the names of the different sorts; if not, the teacher at home, or the minister could tell them. All would be interested in the glacier. Anybody can take a walk up on Eliot's glacier. There is more ice there than Portland could use up in a hundred hot summers. It is interesting to old as well as young to see a river of ice half a mile wide and nearly two long, and more than a hundred feet thick. One should not expect to skate on it, however. On its lower levels it is loaded with rocks and pitted by gravel and dotted with hillocks, and on its upper reaches it is cracked into chasms scores of feet deep. One learns on looking into these fissures the beautiful blue-green color of ice. There are wells sunk where water has worked its way through some little cranny and worn it into a circular form clear through to the stream underneath. Let the children speculate how snow changes into ice, how the glacier moves, how the ice carves the rock and what ice has done in past ages for the earth. Then when you get home let them read some book that treats of glaciers, to see how near the truth their speculations were. Then the visit on Hood will be worth as much as a term at school to the children, perhaps, to the parent.

NORTHERN PACIFIC LAND GRANT

NORTH YAKIMA, W T, Aug 17

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Your correspondent from Washington, D. C., committed an error in his letter published in THE SUNDAY OREGONIAN of August 15, which, I trust, you will give me space to correct. He states, in reference to the Northern Pacific forfeiture bill in the house of representatives, "the result will now be that before the bill can be passed next session the company will have completed at least a greater part of the Cascade branch, and will therefore become entitled to the land grant," etc. The italics are mine. Now such statements, although honestly made, do great harm, for through them many persons not conversant with the terms of the act granting lands to the Northern Pacific railroad may be led to believe that the company can earn the lands named in the grant by building the road at any time, while nothing could be further from the truth

Once grant that your correspondent's position is correct, and it is plain to be seen that the railroad company could hold the lands one hundred years after the grant had lapsed, and then by completing the road secure the land. It logically follows that if the company can rightfully claim land by completing a piece of road ten years after the grant has lapsed they can claim and hold lands along an unfinished road forever by simply saying they intend to build it, for how are you going to prove they do not intend to build it. If your correspondent will carefully read the act granting land to the Northern Pacific railroad he will find the conditions to be that the road should be completed (not part of it) by a certain specified time, and not that the road should simply be built, and the time specified expired years and years ago, and before any road was built west of Bismarck. Now if there is any flaw in the position taken by the house of representatives, viz., that all lands granted to the Northern Pacific railroad west of Bismarck should be forfeited, will your correspondent kindly point it out? In regard to the political capital the democrats will make out of the failure of a republican senate to pass the house forfeiture bill there is no doubt, but democrats and an overwhelming majority of the people, irrespective of party, will make so much capital of it that every representative and nearly every senator who voted against the bill will be elected to stay at home when their term of office expires. The tidal wave of popular rights wrecked the republican party of this territory in 1884, because it declared in favor of this land grant, and the wave has been swelling in dimensions ever since, and it will carry Voorhees again to congress by the largest majority ever given a delegate in the territory. The reign of the people is at hand, and if the republican party expects to survive it must again raise the banner of exact justice to all and write across it in letters so plain that all may read, "One law for corporations and individuals."

THE FAULT OF THE SHERIFF

LONG BEACH, W. T., Aug 18

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Referring to an item in your issue of the 14th inst, headed "Recaptured," I desire in behalf of the good name of Clackamas county, which supplies as good a jail as any in the United States, to say that it is not at fault for the escape of John A. Mann, who shot at B. M. Wilson. The fault of said escape of Mann is wholly due to our sheriff, Wm. Knight, who allowed said Mann to run at large, even to run around the streets, only confining him in prison during the night. Mann was seen at half past 8 o'clock P. M. the evening of his escape on the streets. Neither did the county offer any reward, as Sheriff Knight was only to blame. I request this statement for the reason that the people may be led to the belief that our jail (the cells of which cost four thousand two hundred dollars) is unsafe.

County Judge of Clackamas county, Or

A Healthy Body and a Clear Head

If indigestion, constipation and biliousness torment the body, the head cannot be clear. These disorders react upon the brain most hurtfully and produce a cloudiness in the organ of thought not experienced by a healthy man. Happily these brain oppressing maladies may be entirely dispelled by that peerless alterative, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which clears, refreshes and invigorates the brain and nerves, while it regulates the organs of digestion, assimilation and bilious secretion. It expels the morbid humors which poison the system through the bowels and urinary passages and exerts a powerful invigorating influence as well. Its cathartic action is never irritating, violent or painful, but even, natural and progressive. As an appetizer and sleep promoter the Bitters is unrivalled, it mitigates the infirmities of age, relieves the ailments peculiar to the gentler sex, arrests premature decay and builds up an enfeebled physique

Benton's Hair Grower.
All who are BALD, all who are becoming BALD, all who do not want to be BALD, all who are troubled with DANDRUFF or ITCHING of the scalp should use Benton's Hair Grower. EIGHTY PER CENT of those using it have grown hair. It never fails to stop the hair from falling. Through sickness and fevers the hair sometimes falls off in a short time, and although the person may have remained bald for years, if you use Benton's Hair Grower according to directions you are sure of a growth of hair. In hundreds of cases we have produced a good growth of Hair on those who have been bald and glazed for years. We have fully substantiated the following facts:
We grow Hair in 80 cases out of 100, no matter how long bald.
Unlike other preparations, it contains no sugar of lead or vegetable or mineral poisons.
It is a specific for falling hair, dandruff, and itching of the scalp.
The Hair Grower is a hair food, and its composition is almost exactly like the oil which supplies the hair with its vitality.
Price, single strength, $1. If your druggists have not got it we will send it prepaid on receipt of price.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

OREGON

Albany complains of being almost overrun with tramps and toughs of all description

Henry Wade of Gardiner Coos county, who shot himself some time ago, is recovering as rapidly as circumstances will allow

S Pilsbury, of Biddeford, Maine, is visiting his brother, J G Pilsbury, at Oregon City The brothers have not met since just after the battle of Bull Run

Mr F Helger, of Damascus, was thrown from a horse last Sunday afternoon and seriously injured The cause of the accident was the breaking of the cinch strap

Some little children of Mr Soules of Butte creek, were burning out a hornet s nest last Saturday, when the fire got beyond their control and destroyed a large amount of fence and other property The house was saved

J C Bushnell, of Lane county, has forwarded to Chicago five samples of wheat of one-half bushel each for exhibition at the great exposition annually held there There were four samples of fall wheat as follows White Velvet Hudson Bay, Golden Chaff and White Mole and one of spring wheat, Red Chaff Club This wheat was all taken from his regular field crop and is worthy of being shown anywhere, and must receive marked attention for superior merit.

Coos Bay [illegible] Rev Mosher s residence near Daniels creek had a narrow escape from fire last Tuesday I seems the family were contemplating going away on a visit, and set fire to some brush close to the house to avoid danger during their absence After watching the fire for awhile they returned to the house, thinking everything safe Mr and Mrs Walt who were pulling up the river in a small boat, noticed smoke issuing from under the dwelling and immediately gave the alarm When the boards around the foundation were removed it was found that the fire was fast gaining headway and had it not been for the assistance of neighbors the house would soon have been in ashes

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

Horace B Morris [illegible] in a camp on Lake Washington was killed the other day by a falling tree

Miss Lillie Pitt, an Indian girl graduate from the Forest Grove Indian training school who resides in Warm Springs has been chosen as a teacher in the Indian school at Fort Simcoe

Goldendale Sentinel Old Mr Coverdale of Alder creek attempted to commit the crime of suicide last Thursday by shooting himself in the head with a shotgun The scalp was badly lacerated but not penetrated The old gentleman has been very despondent for some time on account of ill health and financial trouble He is said to be reticent on the subject of the attempted suicide

Chehalis [illegible] Montesano is to have a cannery Last week Mr Solomon, of the Columbia river, arrived in the city and after a careful survey of the ground has decided to erect a cannery at the mouth of the Wynoochie. He has purchased a frontage on the Chehalis river of 100 feet and is busy putting in a suitable wharf A main building eighty feet long will be erected and several smaller ones He expects to begin fishing about the 20th of September It is the intention to give employment during the fishing season to about seventy men This is a new industry on the upper river and will add materially to the prosperity of the city

AN OLD RESIDENT

A Man who has been Sixty-One Years in Oregon—A Veteran of Eighty-one Years

Salem Statesman

The other day a representative of the Statesman had the pleasure of meeting a man who has resided in Oregon for one and sixty years The name of the gentleman is John Baptiste Gobin, and he resides on the Champoeg road about eight miles north of Salem. Mr Gobin is 81 years old, and a French Canadian, who has learned very little English He is remarkably well preserved and has hardly a wrinkle upon his face, although his long white hair and beard give him a venerable appearance. His eye is bright and his laugh as hearty as if he were forty years younger His health is very good, and his body is sound, with the exception of one of his limbs being slightly paralyzed Mr Gobin s memory is remarkable, and does not seem to be in the least impaired by age

When a youth of 20 John Gobin joined a party of 180 men that had been formed in 1825 by the Hudson Bay company to come to Oregon to trap, hunt and do such other work as might be required by them The party came the most of the way in boats traversing almost the full length of the Missouri to its head of navigation and thence transferring their boats to the Snake river and sailing down that and the Columbia until they arrived at Vancouver The journey occupied seven months After arriving in Oregon the party scattered some going north and some south After helping to build the forts at Astoria and Vancouver, Mr Gobin joined a party which went to California and trapped beaver for several years and then he returned to Oregon

After being fifteen years in the employ of the company Mr Gobin came up to French prairie and took up a claim and he has resided there ever since Portland was then a mud hole and Salem a howling wilderness. Deer elk, bear and all kinds of game could be found in abundance and could be gotten without any exertion At that time there were three feet of snow on the ground and in winter time it rained about twice as hard as it does now The chief residents of the valley during the rainy season were ducks and geese Mr Gobin remembers to have seen nine feet of snow on two different occasions at Vancouver Once a party which came down the river during a heavy snow had to hunt for the landing at Vancouver with long poles.

When questioned as to whether or not he knew Rev J L Parrish, of this city, Mr Gobin asked the reporter if he meant "Parrish the blacksmith" It transpires that when Mr Parrish came to this country he worked at his trade of blacksmith in Salem for some time Mr Gobin says that he knows of no one who came in his company that is now alive, and he thinks that no one has been in Oregon so long as he has A cousin of his who died several years ago, came out twenty years before him

Mr Gobin has been married three times and is the father of eleven children, only three of whom are now living He looks as if he might enjoy life for many years to come

Salmon Failure on the Fraser River

British Columbian

The salmon canneries on the Fraser river have virtually closed after one of the poorest seasons which has been known there for many years The sockeye run is over and that is the run upon which cannerymen chiefly base their calculations The total pack on the river so far cannot exceed [illegible] or 50 000 cases which is about half the catch officially reported for last year In the season of 1885 however which proved to be a fairly good one, it will be remembered that about half the canneries were operated. The loss to the canning industry through the failure of the run this year must be very great as a good season was expected and preparations were made for four times as many fish as have been taken The empty cans and other canning material will of course, have to to be carried over until next year, and there is always more or less damage from rust and other causes. The general wear and tear of nets and boats about the canneries, it is presumed, is as great in poor as in good seasons. The loss to the fishermen this season means a very serious loss to the whole province, for there are very few branches of business that do not share in the stimulus of a large run of salmon.

California s New Senator

Chicago Herald

"Senator Hearst, who was so suddenly bereft of his senatorial toga," said a Californian, "is to be succeeded by another monopolist, though this time not a very rich one A. P Williams, who has been chosen by the California legislature to serve out the remainder of the late Senator Miller s term, is a San Francisco shipping merchant—a member of the firm of Williams, Dimond & Co The firm are the Pacific coast agents of the Pacific Mail Steamship company, the corporation which has tried hard to get an [illegible] postal subsidy from the government and which has for several years been paid a subsidy of $1 000 000 a year by the Pacific railways to maintain freight rates to the coast Mr Williams will therefore be as much of a monopoly senator as Stanford or any other of the big corporation barons or attorneys who now control the upper branch of congress Mr Williams is a very respectable citizen and has been an ardent republican for years He is now chairman of the republican state central committee. It was thought that Horace Davis ex-congressman would be given the honor of a short term in the senate but the railroad and steamship influence seems to have been too strong Mr Williams has never held an important office, and it was but recently that he began to take any interest in politics He is not likely to cut any greater figure in the senate than did Hearst, though, of course, he will conduct himself with more dignity.

Tennyson's "May Queen"

Who knows but if the beautiful girl who died so young had been blessed with Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" she might have reigned on many another bright May-day The "Favorite Prescription" is a certain cure for all those disorders to which females are liable.

A FAMOUS PACKER'S EXPLOIT

How a well known Baltimorean Subdued a Typical English Policeman.

E B Porter in Philadelphia Press

I must conclude this account of the people on board the Pennland with an amusing story told me by Mr Eddy of Oswego about Mr Booth the famous oyster packer of Baltimore. Mr Booth was born in England, but came to America when a small boy He has a great fascination for the life in England which Dickens painted with such skill He visits country fairs and makes the acquaintance of the showmen, and at times runs their side shows for them He will go into a London "cook shop" and call for a "weal an' dinner" like one born within the sound of Bow bells

Not long since Mr Booth went to Ascot races and was suddenly attracted by two sights One was a typical English policeman, standing with helmet firm on head, erect, chest extended hands close by side From this grand spectacle, symbolic of the mighty majesty of British law and order, the oyster packer's eye fell upon a six penny squirt, which an old woman was selling

An idea struck him Perhaps I should say an irresistible desire

"What would it cost," said he to a friend near by "to fill that squirt with water and send it in that bobby s eye"

"About a ten pound note," was the laconic reply

In a moment the squirt was bought and filled with water and in less time than it takes to tell it the policeman had it full in the eye Had the heavens fallen the policeman could not have been more astounded He was completely broken up Mr Booth expressed his willingness to pay any fine and was taken before a magistrate and assessed £5, which he paid with great pleasure

"What possessed you to do such a thing?" said the magistrate

"I don t know, sir I was seized with an irresistible desire to do it," replied Mr Booth

"Is there any hereditary insanity in your family" asked the magistrate

"None" said Mr Booth

DR. JOHN BULL'S

SMITH'S TONIC SYRUP

FEVER and AGUE

Or CHILLS and FEVER,

AND ALL MALARIAL DISEASES.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the SAFE, CERTAIN, SPEEDY and PERMANENT cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion that in no case whatever will it fail to cure if the directions are strictly followed and carried out In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order Should the patient however require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic a single dose of KENT S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient Use no other
